++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Bright start. Cloud thickening later, but likely dry until evening.

Today:
A bright morning, with hazy sunny spells. Cloud then thickens from the west through the day, but likely staying dry for all until the evening. Feeling warm in any brighter or sunny spells, with light winds. Maximum temperature 23 deg C (73 deg F).

Tonight:
Rather cloudy evening, with outbreaks of light rain or drizzle across northwestern parts, gradually moving southeast overnight. Some clear spells returning for northwestern areas by dawn. Minimum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Thursday:
Early brighter spells in the northwest limited as cloudy skies elsewhere return. Otherwise cloudy, dry, but a small chance of drizzle. Some afternoon sunny intervals perhaps developing in the southeast. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Sunny spells and breezy Friday, but cloudier overnight into Saturday, with rain at times. Probably dry but rather cloudy Saturday. Turning wetter, and perhaps windy Sunday, with rain spreading northeast.
